

Press release
For immediate publication

After emerging from Lac des Dauphins, a strange creature attacks two La Ronde employees

Montréal, Thursday, April 1, 2010 – A mysterious creature has emerged from Lac des Dauphins at La Ronde and traumatized two workmen at a new rollercoaster construction site. Suffering from shock, the two men have not been able to provide much detail about the incident; however, they claim that the creature escaped Lac des Dauphins through an underwater tunnel before retreating into the St. Lawrence River.

A short video found on one of the workmen's cell phone shows evidence of a creature that is much larger than anything known to occupy these waters. Watch the video online: <http://bit.ly/du9eRb>

La Ronde top management is investigating.

About Six Flags: La Ronde is the property of Six Flags, Inc., a publicly-traded corporation (SIXFQ) headquartered in New York City and the world's largest regional theme park company with 19 parks across the United States, Mexico and Canada.